

OMEESHA SRIVASTAVA PRINCIPAL ATTORNEY

Landlord & Tenant Law, Collection

Personable, knowledgeable, and hardworking, Omeesha Srivastava concentrates her practice in the areas of civil litigation, forcible entry and detainer, covenant and rule enforcement, the collection of damages and fees, and other disputes as they relate to condominium, homeowner (HOA), and town-home community associations.

Omeesha is well-versed in the court system, logging many hours in litigation with a high success rate in resolving cases, particularly disputes between associations and homeowners.

She has extensive experience with landlord/tenant litigation and is well-versed in the Chicago Residential Landlord Tenant Ordinance (RLTO). Additionally, she has given several lectures and seminars regarding relevant and timely landlord/tenant issues.

Prior to joining Kovitz Shifrin Nesbit, Omeesha was employed by a general litigation firm in downtown Chicago where she gained extensive experience in various aspects of homeowner association law, including landlord/tenant litigation under the Chicago Residential Landlord and Tenant Ordinance (RLTO).
